

Chestnuts Newsletter 13th March

Just as you think Spring is around the corner, the weather goes back to Winter! Ah well, we are now in March and have done a great deal of work this half term already! It was great to see the children dressed up for World Book day too.

Mrs Sanda will be visiting the school today, which will be a lovely opportunity for the children to get to know her, and she them. She will also be able to familiarise herself with class routines and the topics we will be covering in the Summer term.

English

We are coming to the end of our non-fiction about Neil Armstrong and I have feel sure that the children have enjoyed learning about such a legendary figure and important moment in World history and the events leading up to it. We will be looking at a story called After the fall next and hope to complete this by Easter.

Maths

Year 1 have finished a short unit about length and height and will be moving on to weight.

Year 2 have completed length and height and are now looking at weight.

DT

The children should be bringing home a design for a vehicle as they are going to make it in school next week. They need things easily found at home like cardboard cereal boxes. We are providing the axles and wheels in school. I hope getting the bits together doesn't become too onerous. Thank you for your support with this.

I am looking forward to meeting you all next week at our parents consultations,

Mrs Pape
